Blueprints

As we move forward in life, we will always remember the last year of this Whitman-Hanson High School building, where we spent our four years. We've heard about the blueprints for the brand new building, a building we will not enter as students; however, Whitman-Hanson offered us our own set of blueprints. In our four years of high school, we designed and implemented the blueprints of life, for success in the world beyond, no matter what our plans. Good luck, Whitman-Hanson High School, as your blueprints set the plan for a new transition. Thank you, Whitman-Hanson High School, for the blueprints you have offered us, the class of 2005, in preparation for the journey of a lifetime.

"Let me say before we part so much of me is made of what I learned from you...and now whatever way our stories end, I know you have rewritten mine by being my friend." There are so many good memories and people I will remember always. This space could not contain any portion of them but I love all my friends and will greatly miss not seeing you 180 days out of a year for the rest of my life as we spread all over the country and some go across the world.

For some people, life is nothing They feel like the link that was left out of the chain of society in most ways, they are right. To these people I say this: The links can be combined into a new chain once they find each other. To these same people I also say: When loneliness overwhelms you, try to focus on the good things in life and forget about the bad. That's what I do. And remember there is always something Good to focus on. To everyone else I say this: Keep and open mind to other. Don't brush us aside.

Inconceivable! High School's over, leaving the unavoidable question; What next? Frankly I don't know. All I know is that no quote uttered long ago can capture my feelings on high school. My friends (Oh you snobby Honors geeks) and family made it worth while. Teachers, too, helped me realize and embrace my inner machine. From second grade to PCC, from OM to freshman world civ. I'll remember the people the most, so thanks immensely Me llamo Lela and it's time to end this before I get too sentimental.

As an exchange student, I came from Macedonia to America to experience the American culture, improve my English and meet new friends. I want to thank my mom for giving me this opportunity and for her support for everything in my life. Love you mom...Also, I want to say thanks to all of the students, expecially Gina, and my teachers who accepted me and helped me a lot. This year is sad for me; I'm very far from my friends at home in this last year of high school, but I have had a great time here, at W-H. Also, thanks to my host family, and my host mother Cheryl Haskell, who let me stay in her house for the whole year.

So many roads, so many detours, so many choices, so many mistakes, as we drive along this road called life occasionally a girl will find herself a little lost & when that happens I guess she just has to let go of the coulda, shoulda, woulda, buckle up & just keep going. it has been a long journey through the tears, the laughs, the fights, and the never ending friendships. Thanks to all my friends for making these past four years unforgettable!

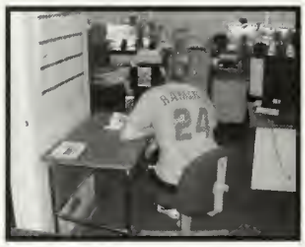
Red Sox



In October, students, parents, and teachers alike were short on sleep as we cheered the Red Sox through 13 games, leading to the final heart-wrenching victory in their first World Series win since 1918.

After watching some of the longest games ever played, we came in blurry-eyed in our array of Red Sox attire, hoping the team could "reverse the curse" and not only beat the Yankees, but make it all the way through the final series.

This year's Red Sox team embodied the hopes of generations and will always be remembered for Big Papi's home rums, Johnny Damon's hair, Curt Schilling's bloody ankle, and their overall teamwork and determination.

Thanks, Sox!

Class History by Bryan Ballard

& the AP English Class

Freshman

Gather my children, so that you can hear,
I say we sit down and reflect,
Upon our high school years.

Firstly let's remember, what made us tip our hats,
Both the super bowl victories,
Of W-H and the Pats.

Along with two supervisors, that always enjoyed a party.
They went by the names of Rozen,
And Big Ol' Moriarty.

So here we go, let's do it, it's our time to poke a little fun,
Perhaps something will "shine on Marblehead,"
Perhaps even the sun.

The first thing that comes to mind is the seniors' overall size,
And you could tell you were going to be hazed,
Just by their glaring eyes.

How lucky, our freshman year, was the last time of hazing.
The upperclassmen's punches were swift,
And their wedgies were amazing.

But there was always a saving grace, if things went a little too far.
There would enter Mr. Corey,
And his magic guitar.

And if it was too rowdy, off in the distance like the crack of dawn,
A little voice could be heard,
It was the Alprechaun.

He'd smite troublemakers before they'd even know.
He was a man of high stature,
Though as tall as Bilbo.

Oh yes, Lord of the Rings came out famously that year,
Along with the Matrix, but not -
Keanu Reeves' acting career.

Aside from these movies, Napster got out down like the lawn,
And Missy Elliot told us-
To "Get Our Freak On"

It was kind of hard though, it was packed at CYO dances,
And although it was really sweaty,
There were still some romances.

Times at school were tough, you could really get in a pinch,
By a gang of girls wearing Bandanas,
That measured over an inch.

And if you got out of that, walking...not crawling,
You always had to look out for ceiling tiles,
That were as Alicia Keys said "Faling."

Every Monday we had a Mission...to what no one knows.
I just did as I was told,
And threw "them bows."

Then there was that motivational speaker who visited one fine day,
He got us together to scream,
The words: "Boomba Hey."

When all was added up, he was rather an expensive laugh.
We should have offered him a t-shirt,
Or our Pink Giraffe.

Recall that rally, it was the last for quite a few years,
Along with the last victory over Abington,
Which brought quite a few tears.

Speaking of emotions, it's time we get sentimental and remember,
How hard the beginning of the year was,
That 11th of September.

It was a challenging experience, a precursor of many events to follow,
No one ever knew it was coming,
Round the corner of the morrow

And although two figures of America stood never any longer,
We survived to see another day,
Wiser and maybe stronger.

Time heals all however, but never forget what you know,
I only meant to remind you of the lack of recess,
And the taste of a Sloppy Joe.

Sophomore

Alright, I'm down with the lingo- I know where it's at,
Things are no longer, "Cool,"
Now things are "Phat."

Enter we-Sophomores-also known as the "wise fools,"
For in reality we knew there was no 3rd floor,
In reality there were no pools.

Which is too bad really- it would have been quite the lure,
For at times it was as Nelly said,
"Way too hot in hurr."

That must have been due to MCAS, which made us sweat,
A lot like Ms. Belden when in her flowers,
She found the dead pet.

It was the year of animals- just as a side note,
Chipmunks inhabited the portables,
And Aperan kissed a goat.

During March Madness-for a fall rally, there was none,
Maybe that is the reason for why,
Abington finally won.

Or maybe, just maybe, they actually deserved the win,
Perhaps the (Green) "Wave" had, like the movie,
"Strength through discipline."

No, unfortunately, I must take back what I said.
I have a passionate dislike for Abington,
Just as I do Driver's Ed.

Though I must admit, the videos were really quite unique,
But they did not touch the hearts of girls,
Like the finale of Dawson's Creek.

This ending made some sad, but not all- so as for the rest,
We were saddened by the death of Ted Williams,
One of baseball's best.

Speaking of the best, the girls' soccer team won the ACL title,
And Kelly Clarkson became
Our first American Idol.

And there was the retirement of one of the greats, of the infamous Mr. Belden,
And we still plead to this day for him to-
Set his wallet aflame again.

We received a new Massachusetts State Governor: Romney (comma) Mitt-
And for the second year in a row,
Lord of the Rings was a hit.

Though nothing like the snack bar, which students ran to in a rush,
In hope of getting something cold,
In hopes of getting a slush.

Any spare change they had, was not cast upon the floors,
No, it was donated to something else,
The infamous Penny Wars.

With a segue of wars, the U.S. had a dilemma of its own,
As a follow up to September eleventh,
Our agenda we could not postpone.

Despite our persistence, when the UN refused to help us attack,
Bush hopped on his Texan horse,
And sent us into Iraq.

And although his true intent is currently in high reprimand,
As Abe Lincoln once said,
"A house divided, cannot stand."

But we are no politicians, we had no intention of sounding an alarm,
Even though it was kind of weird when terrorists-
Stole fertilizer from Clayton's Farm.

Incidents like these though, one had to quickly shrug off.
There were more important issues,
Like the epidemic of whooping cough.

From down the hall, "Whoop," was a common occurring sound,
But after one trip to the nurse,
For five days they could not be found.

Sophomore year was interesting, with unusual situations like that,
It was always good for a memory,
Or for a party chat.

By the end, when we needed guidance in regards to the disorder and wars,
All we had to do was remember the phrase we heard for the first time that year:
"The Choice is yours."

Junior

Wait a sec...we had finaly become upperclassmen-as juniors we had some power,
But no time to use it, because things-
Were changing by the hour.

For instance Mr. Floeck, packed his bags and moved to a different location,
And was given the name like someone,
From the World Wrestling Federation.

The sultan of swat, the king of crash, the colossus of clout-perhaps he had a twin,
Perhaps he was sitting in Whitman-Hanson,
Perhaps he was the "Dean of Discipline."

I must not spend too much time on him though, I can't cash all my chips in the bank,
Or I'll end up like Ms. Strauss and,
Take a swim in the dunk tank.

I do remember this though, finally, with my license I could sit behind the wheel,
And the tennis team had a multiple win streak,
That couldn't have been real.

But it was, for the first time in years, they showed the school what they could do,
And we heard all about it in the lock downs,
That we were forced to sit through.

There was a lot of gossip in those corners, pretty much anything to understand,
From the Atkins diet to-
Michael Jackson in Neverland.

There was some other sports talk, that is, other than the tennis cheers,
Like the Patriots won the super bowl,
Twice within three years.

And we were told to "Cowboy Up," quite the slogan by the Red Sox,
But when Pedro pitched that seventh inning, we-
Wanted to turn back our clocks.

If not to turn them back for the game, then just to get some more sleep,
For there was quite the course load,
Laying by our feet.

Some wrote over a sixty five page Framingham, no I do not sit and jest,
While others were occupied with the infamous,
Standardized Aptitude Tests.

In other news, Abington kids drove around the school, then got stuck in the parking lot,
And then the amazing Renaissance,
Did not leave us distraught.

Nor did the war, well kind of, but we caught Saddam sooner better than later,
And on the other side of the country,
Arnold became, "Governator."

From Hollywood to Politics, noone had ever seen that before,
Well of course I'm being sarcastic, there was Ronald Reagan,
Him we cannot ignore.

For at the close of the year, due to age, he silently passed away,
Along with Columbia Spaceship Crew,
Who we lost on a dear March day.

But aside from loss, let's go back to a memory, remember one that is calm
Like the awesome time some had at Europe,
Like the dance moves shown at prom.

But really that is it, junior year really wasn't all that hard
I wasn't scared to begin with, after all,
"My milkshake brings all the boys to the yard."

Senior

Then there is senior year, a time, supposedly, for us to sit and relax,
But I can't, I'm too busy listening to Fat Joe,
I'm too busy "Leaning Back!"

Now that's a dance, even one a "Fat" guy can do,
But W-H doesn't have to worry about overweight children,
With the Obesity Task Force coming through.

You took our Otis', and you took our DECA candy
Then you substituted with a dispersing machine,
That you thought may have come in handy.

Not even with our turkey slop, are we allowed to have a roll of bread,
While the "Health" dispenser, deals out old tuna, I've eaten it,
Enough said.

You don't want to get the Senior Class annoyed, there is no doubt we will prevail,
I mean you don't want to get us irritated because,
Even Martha Stewart's in jail.

We've shown you what we can do, we can get really kind of rough.
Just ask yourself one question,
Who won powder-puff?

The score was fourteen to zip, no inaccuracy, this I truly know,
And then the Boys Cheerleading squad, well,
Now that's a halftime show.

But life is a series of problem solving, of goals that you have to reach.
A lesson in which the people have to learn,
That star on Laguna Beach.

Primetime is absolutely consumed, with the "newest" reality shows,
And well a lot are really poor,
And a lot I must oppose.

After all, I'm a fan of the oldies, of shows like Saved by the Bell
And in the time of cartoons, like Ninja Turtles,
That's where my mind stays to dwell.

"Don't be alarmed," as Lars once said, a character of Heavyweights,
And although that is a classic movie,
Let's get back to recent dates.

We are eighteen now, finally we have some actual legal rights,
But we still need mom and dad to help us pay for the car,
And those broken headlights. Paddidle!

But we need it, how else are we going to get to school?
We aren't going to ride the bus, nope-sorry,
That isn't really cool.

But what is awesome, is the World Series, that the Red Sox finally won,
Finally the curse of The Bambino,
Boston in victory has undone.

They aren't the only success, firstly, the fall rally did return,
As with another victory over Abington,
So it's No longer our concern.

Another new addition this year, aside from the construction of the new school,
Was another election of Bush as our president,
And through democracy, majority rule.

Also Senior Privileges, allow some to come in late,
Only for those who don't need it,
In order to graduate.

But after graduation where will we go? And through which closed door?
We answer this question by spending so much time,
Walking on a college tour.

Or all the time spent in guidance, for they have come to know us well,
Probably even better,
Than we know ourselves.

We still have a form of self expression though, without much restraint,
For we got to graffiti our lockers,
Using brush and paint.

So now our school has some character, some pizzazz, although we had it all along
And though most won't admit it,
We'll miss it when we're gone.

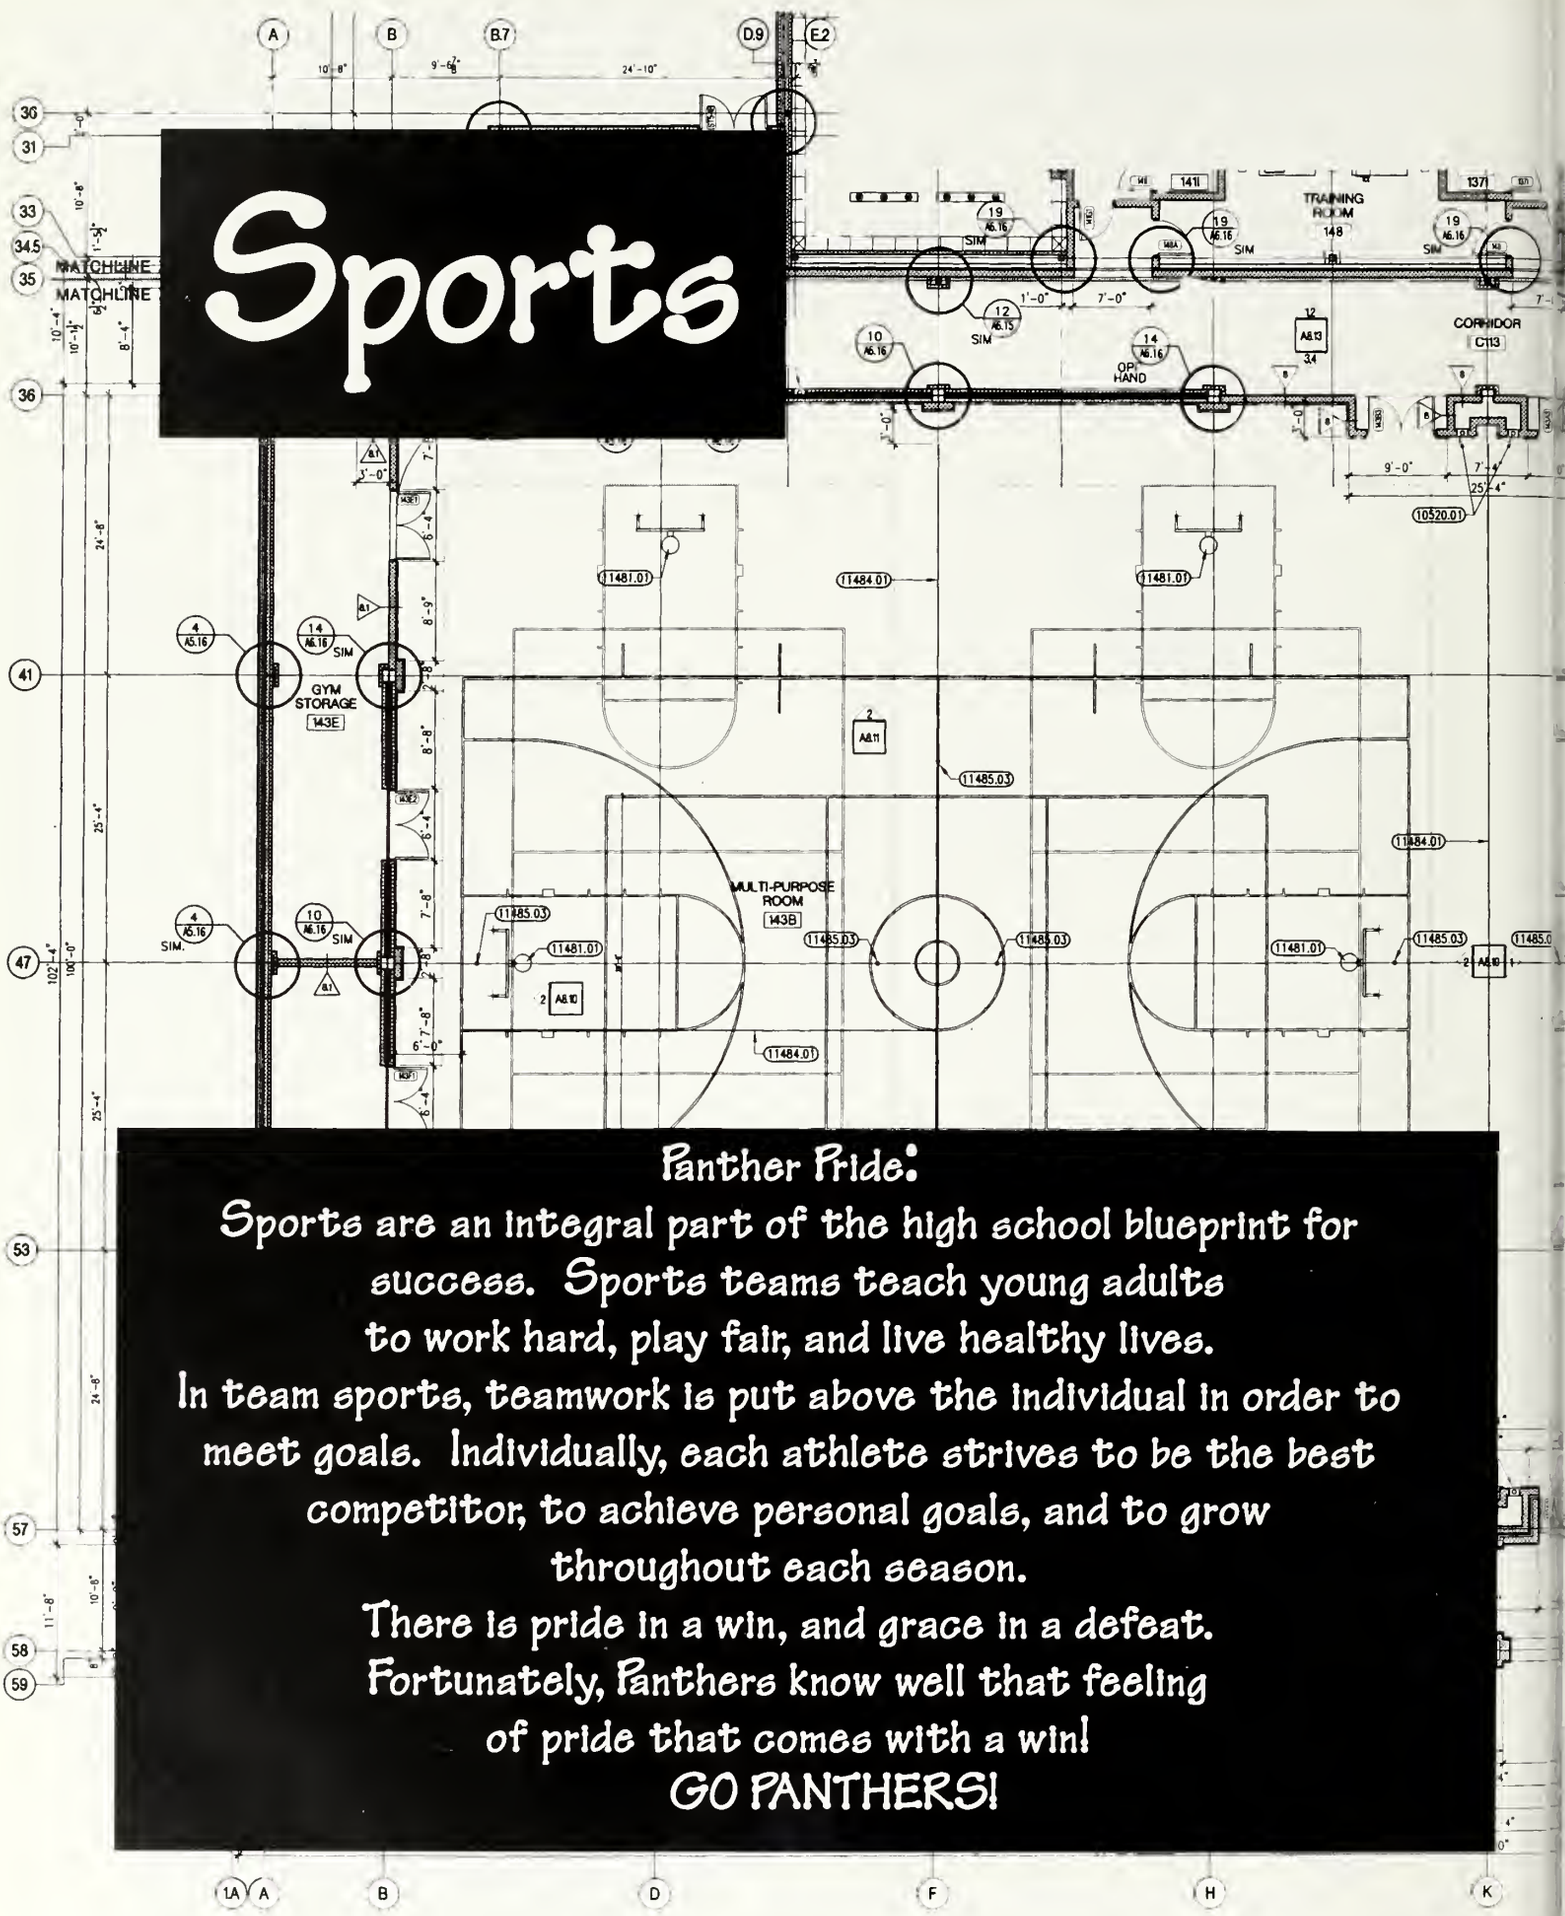
But for now we must live it up, in school, after, and even at our prom,
Missy is still in the back of our minds,
Telling us to "Get Our Freak On"

I say we take advantage of her advice, for there is only so long it will last,
These have been some memories for you-
To reflect upon your past.

And was everything mentioned, that perhaps you personally hold dear,
No, this ode was only meant to be a representation,
Of the time you spent here.

So with great adieu, we wish each other a solemn, bidding farewell,
And we wish each other luck, that in life-
We will each excel.

There is one more item, that may be, as a finale, someday a token of great worth,
And that is for you to do as Ron Burgundy says and,
"Stay classy Planet Earth."



Sports

Panther Pride:

Sports are an integral part of the high school blueprint for success. Sports teams teach young adults to work hard, play fair, and live healthy lives. In team sports, teamwork is put above the individual in order to meet goals. Individually, each athlete strives to be the best competitor, to achieve personal goals, and to grow throughout each season. There is pride in a win, and grace in a defeat. Fortunately, Panthers know well that feeling of pride that comes with a win!

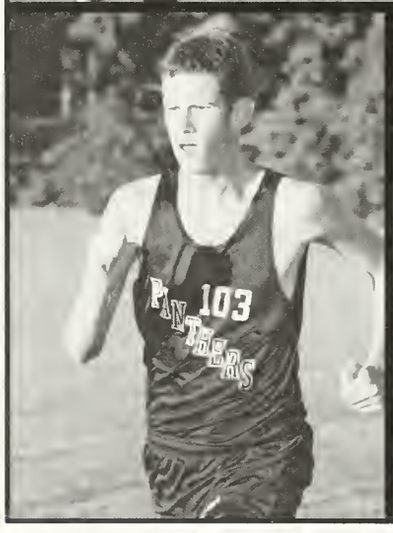
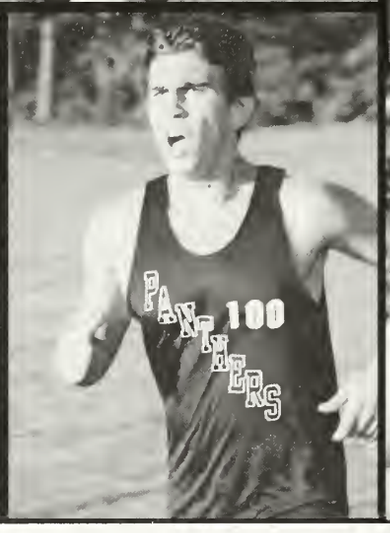
CROSS COUNTRY





Under the guidance of Coach Kevin Black, and three senior captains, Rich Bertino, Bryan Ruel, and Dean Shadley, this year's boys cross country team was bound to be successful.

Despite the many strong new teams who entered the ACL, the Panthers still managed to come out on top as the ACL champs. They were undefeated against league opponents, and continued the winning streak throughout the larger, non-league meets, finishing first at Catholic Memorial, South Shore Principles, second in Eastern Mass and tenth in the state.

When discussing how the team's months of hard work had trul paid off, especially in their tougher meets, Bryan Ruel remem bered this year as being, "Quite possibly the most exciting an memorable season." Dean Shadley remarked, "It was an intens season."

With a solid core of runners returning next year, the team hope to continue with their success for years to come.

CROSS COUNTRY

The girls' XC team had a lot of success this year and the future looks bright for the team. We had a nev coach who not only helped us improve dramatically, but he also helped improve our overall dynamics. Thi year we had a 7-1 record in dual meets and just barely missed qualifying for the All-State meet as a team Good luck next year, girls...squish the fish and think top 5 @ Emass!! -Kasey Blac

How do you offer athletes blueprints for success?

The first day of practice, I go over my training philosophy, which includes what type of workouts we will be doing throughout the course of the season. I explain to the athletes that they will improve as the season goes on, and we will be peaking at the end of the season. After practice, I tell the athletes what workout we will be doing the following day, and the reason for doing it. I try to stay consistent by having speed workouts on certain days, which allows the athletes to mentally prepare for them. I also inform the athletes what time they have to run or who they have to beat for us to be successful. The day after races, I inform the athletes as to who ran personal bests, as well as who improved the most from the previous race. Finally, I make goal cards for each athlete, which contain individual goals, as well as team goals.

Panthers feel pride in success

The 2004 Panther football team worked hard to earn 8 ns in a very successful season. They won games with citing special teams timely offense and a great defense that utout teams.

The seniors on the 2004 team provided the leadership for eteam to follow. Captains Tony Cina, Brandon Josselyn, d Ryan Dillon set the example for everyone. Seniors hn Burnett and Chris Lopilato provided great emotion eryday.

According to captain Tony Cina, "The reason for our ccess was because we did not have any individuals on e team; we played as one. I've always wanted to be captain and it was a privilege to be captain here. Whitman-Hanson has a great football tradition."

The team's victory on Thanksgiving over rival Abington was a great example of how this team played football all year. The defense let the way and finished the year unscored upon on O'Brien field. Excitment on special teams from the start ofthe game as Isiah Queen ran behind a crushing block by James Aspessi and returned the opening kick-off 60 yards. The passing combinaion of Josselyn to Dillon put us ahead 7-0.

The rushing of Josh Hutchings, Chris Lopilato, and Josh Dixon controlled the ball all day and Hutchings put it in for a touchdown and a 14-0 lead.

The defensive line led by Cina, Dillon, and Darren Bonzagani with help from Chris Sherwin, Josh Hutching, Chris Lopilato and John Burnett kept Abington scoreless and locked up another victory.

Congratulations on a great season.

Reclaiming Their Title

For 20 years, the football team enjoyed a winning legacy against rival Abington High, however, the Panthers came into the Thanksgiving Day game having lost the previous two years. Seniors had never seen a win against the Green Wave in their playing history, and were hungry for the victory.

Conditions were a football team's dream, with inclement weather providing a sea of mud in which they would get down and dirty.

Panthers took the lead early, scoring within the first three minutes of the game. Offense did their work easily, scoring two touchdowns in the game, while defense held off the Green Wave force. The final score of 14-0 was the Panther's sixth shut-out of the season.

Overall, the Panthers had a successful season, 8-2, and the 8 wins wrapped up the third consecutive season that their win rate had improved.

This was a big win for the Panthers, and hopefully will mark the beginning of another great winning streak against Abington!

Feeling of Family Motivates Team

This year girls varsity soccer team had a great season and it reflected in their scores.

To prepare to win the team got mentally focused, practiced 6 days a week, and they worked hard all summer by doing speed conditioning. The team, however, did have to overcome some adversity.

"We knew the only way we would win would be by playing as well as acting as a team whether it meant talking to someone you normally wouldn't or solving problems before they turned into an issue," said Nicole Nelligan.

The team set personal goals for themselves and senior captain Claire Peterson said that she hoped to make it to the tournament, to improve her skills in general and to play in the All Star Game.

Nicole's hopes for the future of the team are that all the girls carry with them all the lessons learned this year.

Clarie hopes they will improve, become better, become ACL Champions next year and stay as close as the team was last year. This year's team was truly a family.

CHEERLEADING

Another season has come and gone once again for the Whitman-Hanson Varsity Cheerleaders, and it has been another successful one!

The young ladies who make up the team have worked very hard since August to prepare for all their competitions. This year they kept ther ACL title for the 16th season in a row. Not only were they ACL champs but they were South Regional Champions too!

The team placed 3rd in the whole state of Massachusetts, which means that they obtained their goal to move on to Nationals. Nationals will be held in Orlando Flordia this Febuary. Not only did these talented girls have an amazing season, they also had the biggest senior parent night (with help from the band and football players) in the history of Whitman-Hanson.

The varsity dance team put there best oot foward this year in their attempt to wow their peers and judges. They began heir journey over the summer when they attended UDA Camp. At camp the girls competed for a chance to go to Nationals in Disney. The girls made their impression and got their bid with long season set ahead of them. The girls pulled together to prepare for a competition in November. The girls placed third at their camp but kept their spirits up because of the thought of Nationals. Seniors Katie Veazie, Katie Rybka, Katie McGrath, Kelly O'Connel, Sheri Cavicchi, and Keri Griffith stepped oward to take on the responsibilites of the eam, encourage the younger girls to do vell, and to look foward to next year. Even vith all their ups and downs this season is he girls best year yet. "Nationals 2005, here we come!"

"The dance team has truely developed into a great program that can bring a sense of pride and accomplishment to all members. The team practices from July to late Febuary. The length of the season shows the dedication of all team members. With dedication, success will follow.The team placed second in New England this summer at UDA dance camp as well as third in the New England Cheer and Dance challenge in Boston. This is the first year the team will travel to Flordia for the UDA Nationals. I believe that this accomplishment was met because of the love each dance team member has for the sport. All of the girls are extremely talented dancers and I feel blessed to have such a capable team. The dance team is a success because of the respect that each member earns from their team. To stay motivated the team sets yearly goals, participates in team building activities, andalways remembers that what is best for the team is best for the individual."

Hard work, commitment and team unity are the key ingredients to the success of the boys basketball team.

The aggressive style of play is a strong indication of the boy's work ethic as they leave it on the floor each game.

One of the quotes we have posted in the lockeroom states – "Its amazing what a team can accomplish when no one cares who gets the credit;" this sums up the unselfish character of our team.

We play 11-12 guys a game and each player brings a different strength to the floor. We don't have guys asking about their point totals as they know the only points that matter are posted on the scoreboard under the name – Whitman-Hanson.

A Winning Experience

The Special Olympics is an all year sport. Conditioning begins in early September and athletes participate in various games and competitions through late June.

At the regional and state level, their competitions include Regional Bowling Games in Kingston, Winter Games in Worcester, Regional Track and Field games in Brockton and State Summer games are each three day trips that are looked forward to by the athletes as both a social and an athletic event.

As a group, the Olympians also take part in other activities such as class trips to Plymouth, apple picking, hiking, and fundraising events.

In keeping with the team motto, "Let me win but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt," athletes always try their best and therefore every experience is a winning experience.

This year we say goodbye to three seniors, Joshua Hood, Lyndsey Draheim, and Joshua Constant. We wish them luck and would like to thank them for their years of cooperation and comradary on the team. Good luck of you in the coming years.

Clubs and other co-curriculur activities offer students the opportunity to learn additional skills to add to thier blueprints for life. These skills include academic, leadership, communication, social, and interpersonal qualities, to name a few. Students receive the experience of expanding skills learned in the classroom and can interact with teachers and mentors on a new and exciting level.

Patriots Dynasty

The Patriots made history this past year winning three out of the last four superbowls. Not many teams have been able to accomplish what the New England Patriots have been able to do. The Patriots have set records this year for longest winning streak in the post season, and most consective wins during the regular season.

"Yearbook has been one of the best classes I have taken during my high school career. It has been a truly eye-opening experience into the world of editing and publishing. Everyone has poured their heart and soul into this project to produce one of the best books we've had in years."
~Dominica Donovan

"Noone can understand the amount of effort that went into producing this yearbook. Anyone can criticize, anyone can say 'shoulda coulda woulda,' but in the end, only those that made the effort and went the extra mile can feel the justification of a job well done. We tried our best, night and day and without you it couldn't have been done...Thank you Mrs. Shea! :)"
~Alison Nugent

"I enjoyed being the 'errand girl' because the underdog, although it may not seem like it, really has a large responsibility to give support, ideas, and imput into the final product."

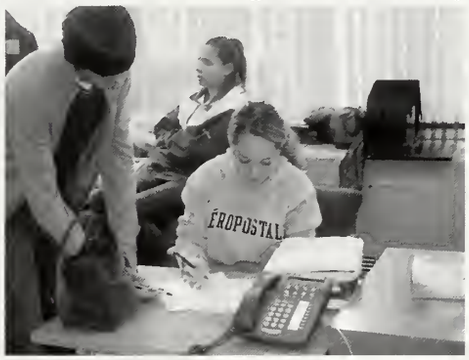
There are those who oversee the execution of the blueprints, to ensure the plans are followed, mistakes are corrected and progress and advancement take place. AT Whitman-Hanson, the main office staff and administration are key players in lofty goals; they ensure high school success.

The High School Secretaries dilligently work to keep the office running smoothly!



Options students assist in the day-to-day activities of the main office.

How does Whitman-Hanson Regional High School offer students a blueprint for success?

Whitman-Hanson Regional High School truly does offer all students a blueprint for success. Through our Program of Studies and Graduation Requirements, all of our students can be assured that they will have the knowledge, skills, and experiences to prepare them for further education or the world of work. Through up-to-date research, commitment to best practices, and, most of all, the dedication and commitment of our staff, I am confident that each student enrolled in Whitman-Hanson will be ready to take on the world. I believe almost everyone today needs education beyond high school but I also know that if you know what you want and you are given clear guidelines on how to get there, all it takes is hard work and perseverance and everyone can reach his/her goal.

As Thoreau says, "If you have built your castles in the air, that's where they belong; now put foundations under them." The blueprint for that foundation is the education you have received at Whitman-Hanson.

How does your department offers students blueprints for success?

The goal of the WHRSD Guidance Department is for all students to develop the ability and personal resources to: understand themselves and others, resolve personal problems, make informed decisions, recognize and change inappropriate behavior, make a successful transition from school-to-college or school-to-career, and be life-long learners. We strive to help out students reach these goals through personal attention and one-on-one counseling, classroom guidence workshops, and after-school student and parent programming.

Goodbye to Mr. Robert Bancroft

For the last 31 years, Mr. Bancroft has dedicated his life to inspiring our students to believe in themselves and pursue goals and dreams that others may have thought impossible.

As an English teacher, Athletic Director and Football Coach, Mr. Bancroft was a model leader in directing Whitman-Hanson to great heights in both victory and in defeat.

His passion for teaching core values honored a sense of fair play and sportsmanship while also emphasizing the importance of the pursuit of excellence. Coach Bancroft's football teams won an amazing 185 games, 6 league championships, 8 Super Bowl berths and 3 state championships.

For a man who led his teams to so many victories, he valued the experience far more than he did the outcome of games.

To coach, it didn't matter if you were the star of your team or the last one off the bench, he respected those who pushed themselves in the face of adversity and found triumph where others would see defeat.

As he retires this year from Whitman-Hanson we will be losing his presence on school grounds in a physical sense, but we are also assured that his impact on our Panther family will live on – through his players and students who now honor him on a daily basis by teaching and coaching here at WH and through those programs and teams he has set on a course destined for success.

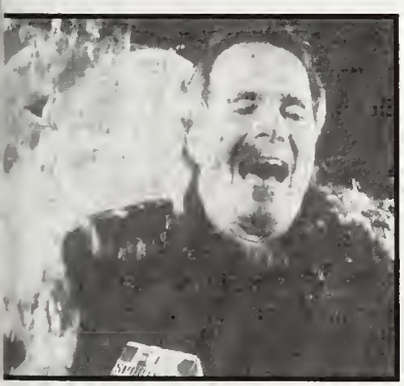
As as coach, Mr. Bancroft led W-H football to win:

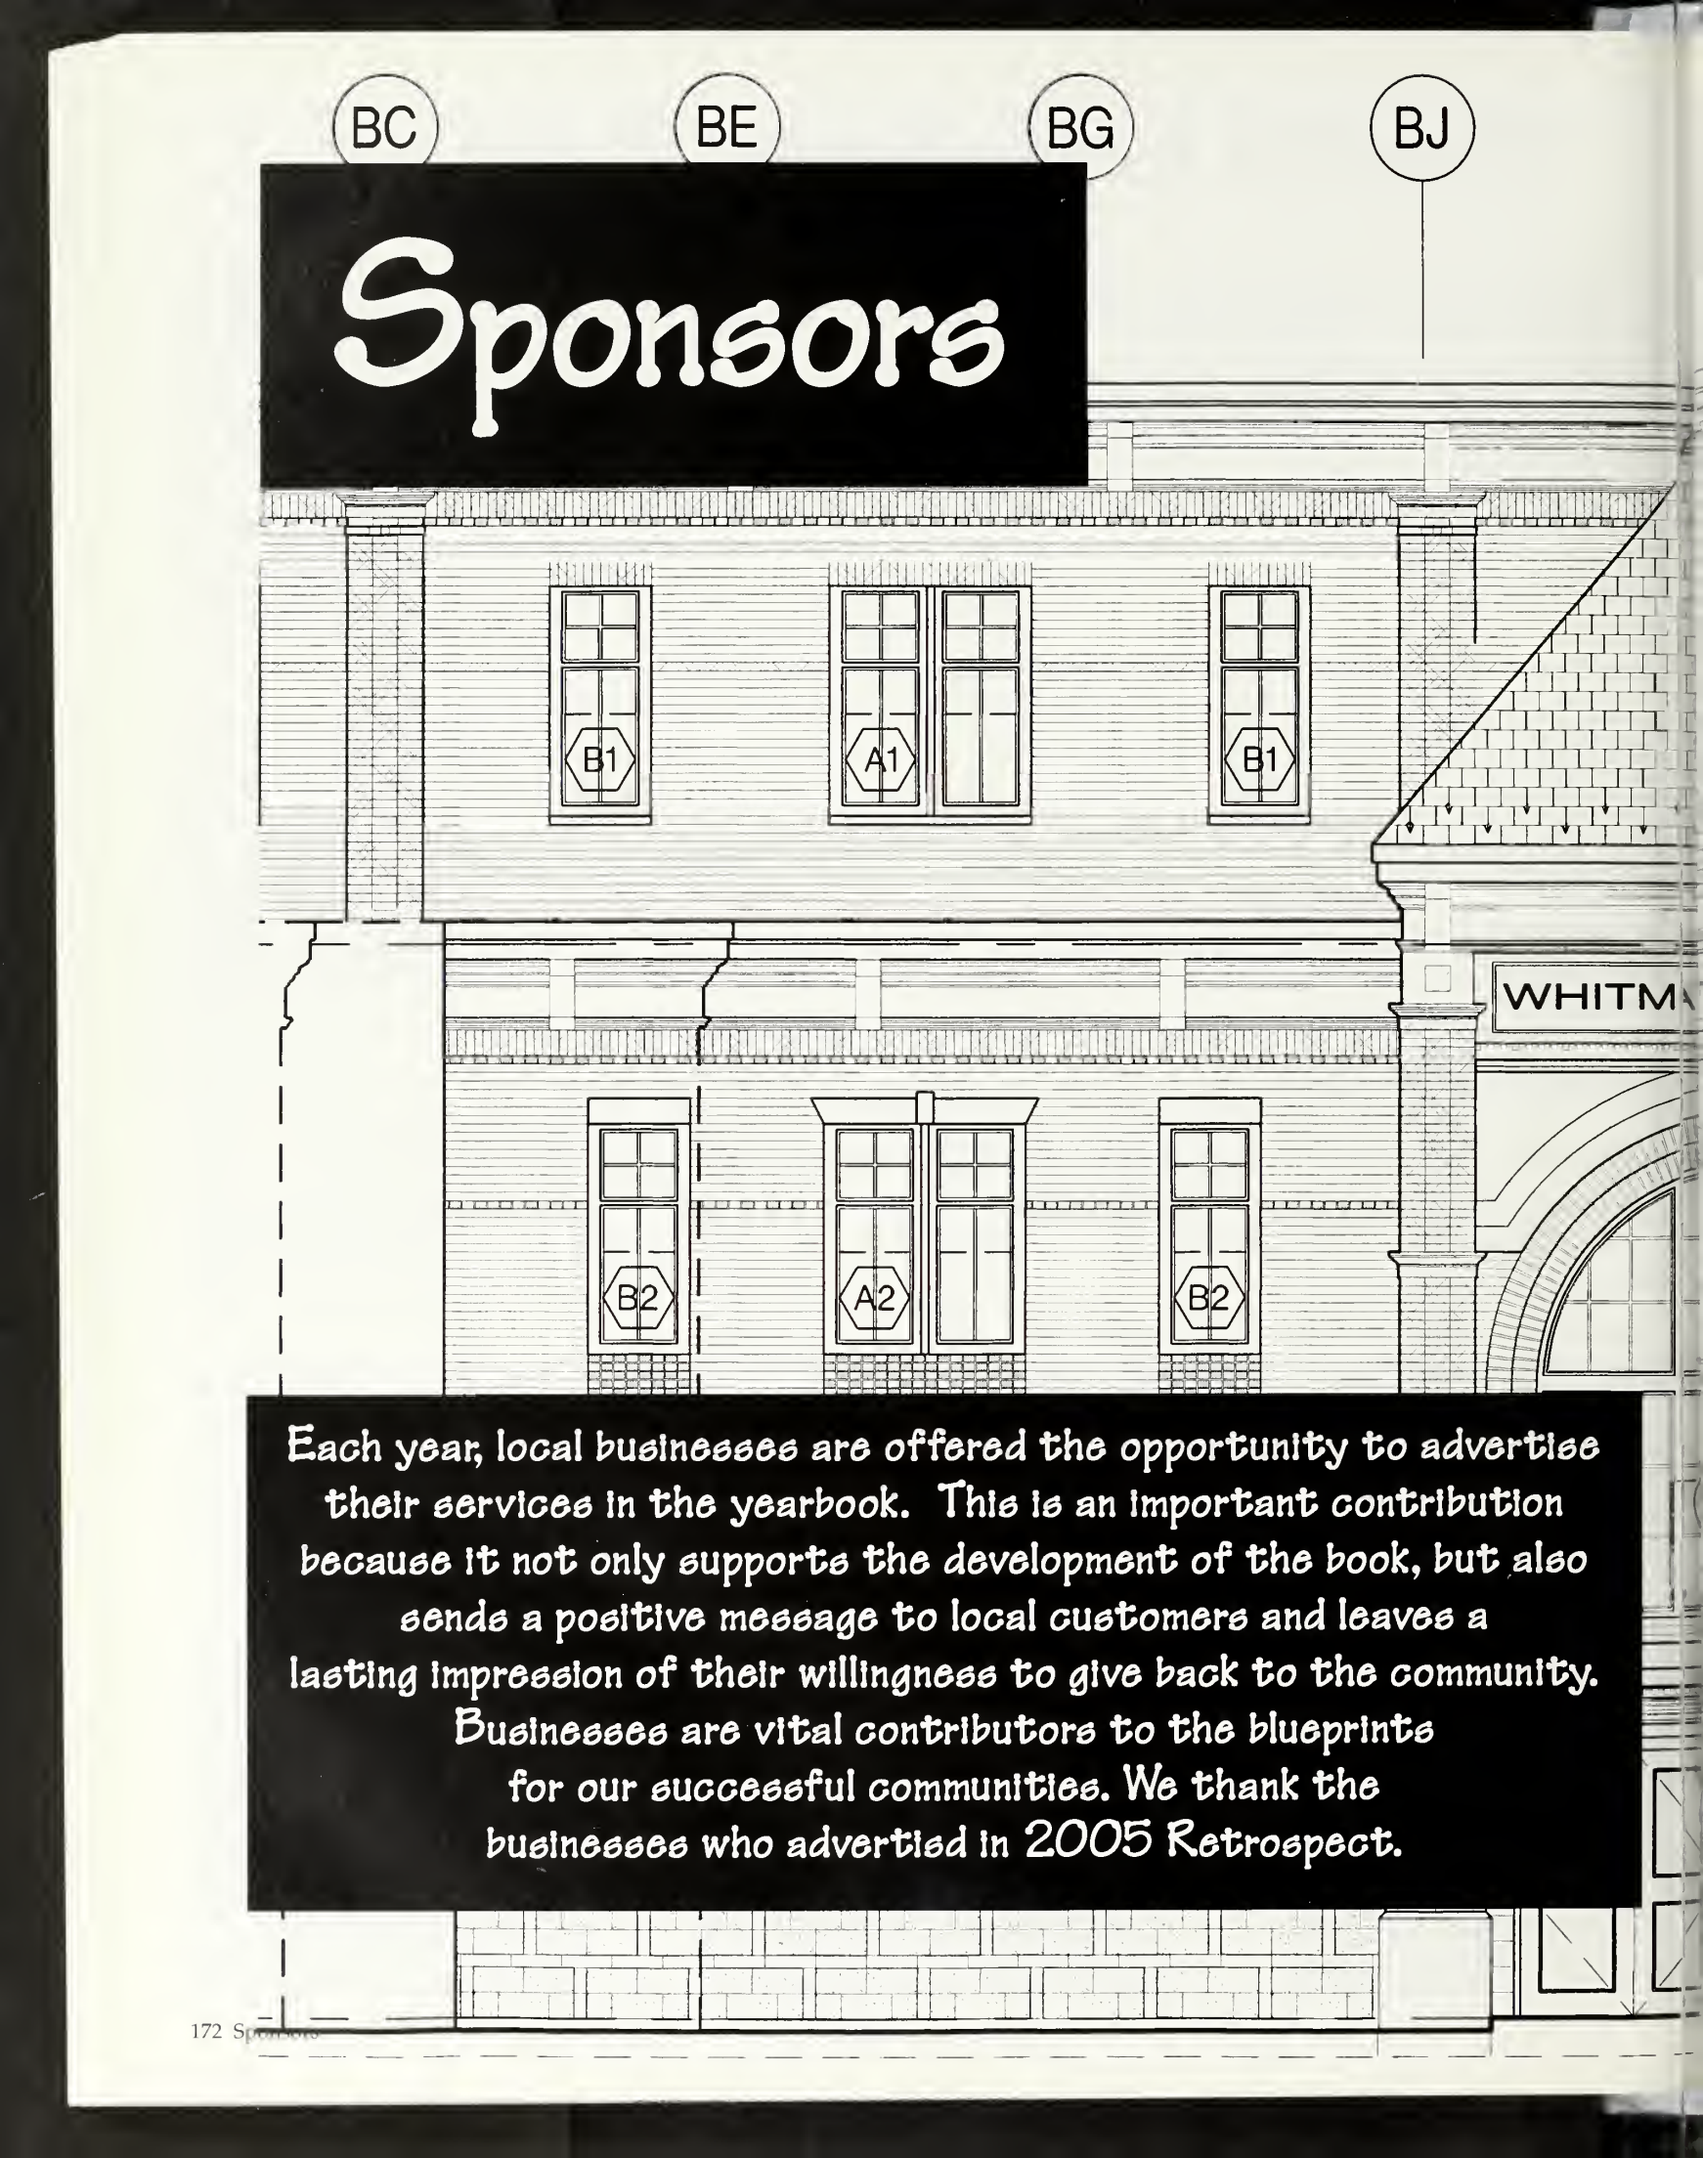
185 GAMES
16 LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIPS
8 SUPERBOWLS
3 STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS

Through Coach Bancroft we have learned what it truly means to be a winner and perhaps more importantly he has guided us down the road we need to travel to reach those goals and dreams we all have for our lives.

We dedicate this yearbook to Coach Bancroft and wish him the best in his retirement; we know that more lives are waiting to be touched by this incredible teacher and we all know first hand just how lucky they are.

Thanks, Coach.





Sponsors

Each year, local businesses are offered the opportunity to advertise their services in the yearbook. This is an important contribution because it not only supports the development of the book, but also sends a positive message to local customers and leaves a lasting impression of their willingness to give back to the community. Businesses are vital contributors to the blueprints for our successful communities. We thank the businesses who advertised in 2005 Retrospect.

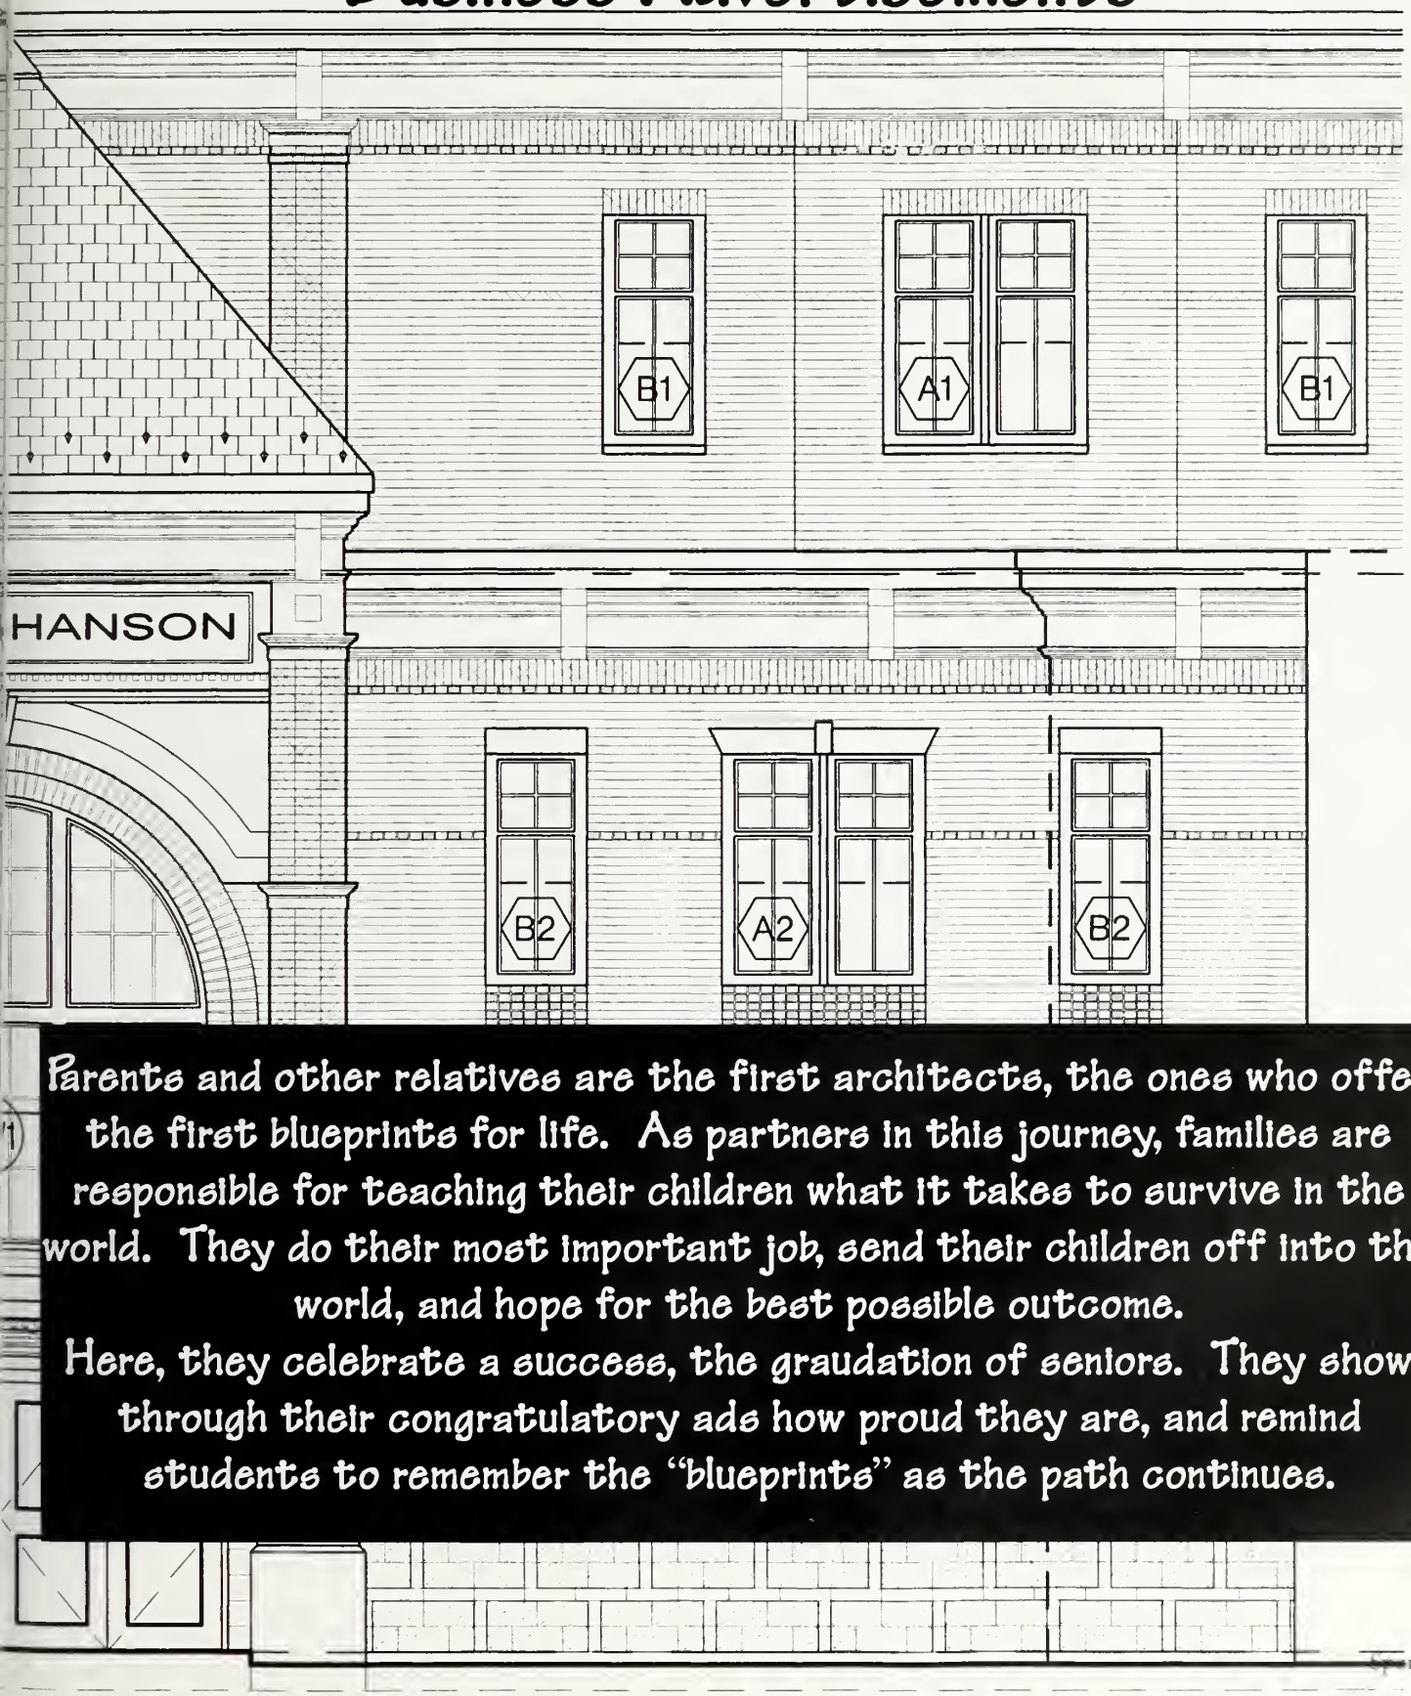
Family Congratulatory Ads & Business Advertisements



Parents and other relatives are the first architects, the ones who offer the first blueprints for life. As partners in this journey, families are responsible for teaching their children what it takes to survive in the world. They do their most important job, send their children off into the world, and hope for the best possible outcome.

Here, they celebrate a success, the graudation of seniors. They show through their congratulatory ads how proud they are, and remind students to remember the "blueprints" as the path continues.

Snyder Jewelers was founded in 1979 by the late Gary Snyder as a wholesale estate jewelry company. Gary & Mark Snyder relocatedout of the Boston Jewelers Building to the current location in Columbian Square, South Weymouth in 1992 after Mark graduatedfrom Curry College in Milton. The store is now a full service operation excompassing all aspects of fine jewelry sales, repair, design, custom engraving and watch servicing. Mark Snyder has completed courses with the Geometrical Institute of America for Diamonds & Diamond Grading, as well as for Insurance Replacement Appraisals.

Our philosophy is to provide exceptional "hometown" service at the same reasonable prices available at the Jewelers Building in Boston.

Colophon

The student yearbook staff and the advisor Mrs. Lisa Shea produced the 2004-2005 yearbook of the Whitman-Hanson Regional High School. This year's book was sold for $50-$60 depending on when it was ordered. There were 425 copies made. Each book consisted of 224 pages, 32 full color pages, and 192 black and white. Adobe Pagemaker 7.0 and Adobe Photoshop 6.0.1. were used on a Power Macintosh G3, Power Mac 7100/66av, Power Mac 8500/180, two Emacs, a Flat panel iMac, and two PCs. Students of the yearbook staff, using a Nikon Coolpix 4300, and other cameras belonging to students, took most of the candid pictures in the book. Some images were scanned using an HP Scanjet 5470c. Undergraduate portraits and several sports and activities photos were provided by McGrath Studios. Senior portraits were also provided by McGrath Studios, Nicholas Studios, Susan White, Eagle Photography, C&J Camera and Green Photography. Some athletics photos were provided by Sportshots/Ned Constantino. This yearbook may not be reproduced by anyone without the consent of the 2004-2005 editors and advisor. Blueprints were provided by AIA.

"You have brains
in your head.
You have feet
in your shoes.
You can steer yourself in any direction you choose.
You're on your own.
And you know
what you know.
You are the one who'll decide where to go."
